ABRAHAM KAPLAN

A "heaven-sent maestro" — Leonard Bernstein

"Thank you deeply and sincerely for your splendid work." — Igor Stravinsky

"An evening of choral splendor." — Headline in The New York Times

Professor of music Abraham Kaplan has been director of choral studies at the UW School of Music since 1977. He has been associate conductor for choral activities at the Seattle Symphony since 1995.

Born in Tel Aviv, he is a third-generation choral conductor—his grandfather was a cantor and choral conductor in Eastern Europe, and Mr. Kaplan's father became the leading choral conductor in Israel.

Abraham Kaplan received his early training in Israel, followed by intensive graduate work at the Juilliard School of Music in New York. He was director of choral conducting at the Juilliard School from 1961-77. Mr. Kaplan has been director of choral activities at New York City's Park Avenue Synagogue since 1968.

He is also founder, music director, and conductor of the Camerata Singers and Camerata Symphony Orchestra, New York City, which began in 1961. Leonard Bernstein commented that "It has always been a joy to work with the Camerata Singers, because of their extraordinary musicianship and versatility, due in large measure to their heaven-sent maestro, Abraham Kaplan." Igor Stravinsky, after hearing the Camerata Singers perform his compositions, wrote "I have worked with many choruses and chorus directors during the course of my life and have rarely found both the aesthetic and personal pleasure that working with you and your group gave me."

Mr. Kaplan has appeared as guest conductor with such orchestras as Toscanini's NBC Symphony, the Israel Philharmonic, the Saint Louis Symphony, the Calgary Philharmonic, San Francisco Opera, the Seattle Symphony, and many others. Mr. Kaplan has also composed several works, most of which combine chorus and orchestra, including Arvit Leshabat (Sabbath Evening Service), Psalms of Abraham, K'dusha (Sanctification) Symphony, Crystal Cathedral Psalms, and Glorious. He has appeared on radio and television specials and made a number of recordings.

Among Mr. Kaplan's previous teaching and conducting posts are music director of the Collegiate Choral in New York (1961-73), music director of the Symphonic Choral Society of New York (1968-77), and director of the New York State Summer School for the Arts (1976-83).

Highlights of his career include: A command performance in 1983 in honor of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II and His Royal Highness The Duke of Edinburgh during their visit to the USA; a 1977 command performance in the White House in honor of President Urho Kekkonen of Finland, preparation of the world premiere and subsequent recording in 1965 of Leonard Bernstein's Chichester Psalms; preparation of the world premiere in 1963 of Leonard Bernstein's 3rd Symphony, Kaddish, in Tel-Aviv, Israel; and preparation of the 1954 world premiere of Darius Milhaud's opera David in Jerusalem.

Mr. Kaplan's college textbook Choral Conducting, published by W. W. Norton in 1985, is now in its third printing and is the most widely-used college textbook on the subject.
