UW FACULTY ARTISTS

ALLEN VIZZUTTI has performed in 30 countries and every state in the union with a wide range of artists and ensembles, including Chick Corea, Doc Severinsen, The NBC Tonight Show Band, the Airmen of Note, the Army Blues, Chuck Mangione, Woody Herman, Japan's NHK Symphony Orchestra, and the Kosei Wind Orchestra. He has appeared as a guest classical and jazz soloist with symphony orchestras in Germany, Tokyo, Budapest, St. Louis, Syracuse, Honolulu, Milwaukee, Minnesota, and Phoenix, among others. Vizzutti's status as an artist has led to solo performances at the Hollywood Bowl, Carnegie Hall, Newport Jazz Festival, Banff Center for the Performing Arts, Montreaux Jazz Festival, and Lincoln Center. He has recorded both jazz and classical CDs, as well as performing on many motion picture soundtracks and TV shows, commercials, and recordings with artists such as Frank Sinatra, Barbra Streisand, and Chick Corea. As artist in residence, Vizzutti has taught at the Eastman School of Music, the Banff Center for the Performing Arts, Kansas State University, and West Texas University. He has been the trumpet teacher at the University of Washington since January of 2001. The Allen Vizzutti Trumpet Method, published by Alfred Music, has become a standard work for trumpet study world-wide. Vizzutti earned bachelor of music and master of music degrees from the Eastman School of Music, as well as a Performer's Certificate, a chair in the faculty brass quintet, and the only Artist's Diploma ever awarded a wind player.

DON IMMEL, Professor of Trombone, has established himself as one of the most promising, active and versatile trombonists in the United States. In addition to appearances as a soloist and clinician, Don is currently Principal Trombonist with the Tacoma Symphony, performs frequently with the Seattle Symphony and Opera orchestras including the 2001 production of Wagner's der Ring des Nibelungen, and can be heard on numerous television and movie sound tracks. Mr. Immel is a member of QUAKE, an eclectic, energetic and highly successful chamber ensemble featuring former members of the MET Opera Orchestra, and founding members of the Kronos string quartet, among others.

In 1998 he performed the American premiere of Jan Sandstrom's Don Quixote Concerto for Trombone and Orchestra, which has led to several additional performances of the work throughout the Northwest. The Tacoma News Tribune writes "Immel made the audience love an addled, bow-legged, sometimes paranoid character (Don Quixote) he [made] the trombone sing gorgeous, golden melodies and execute virtuosic runs. I stopped counting after he took his fourth curtain call." In addition to his performance successes, Mr. Immel has initiated several successful grants both for new music commissions and for his project "Jazz Talk", which continues to bring young musicians and the community in direct contact with internationally renowned jazz musicians for lectures, clinics and performances. Don holds undergraduate degrees from Central Washington University and his Master of Music degree from Rice University in Texas. Prior to his current position at the University of Washington, he served on the faculties of Pacific Lutheran University in Tacoma, Washington and St. Thomas University in Houston. His teachers include Joseph Alessi of the New York Philharmonic, David Waters of Houston Symphony, Ralph Sauer of the Los Angeles Philharmonic, and Per Brevig, retired, Metropolitan Opera Orchestra.

TIMOTHY SALZMAN is Professor of Music at the University of Washington where he serves as Director of Concert Bands and is conductor of the University Wind Ensemble and Concert Band. He also teaches students enrolled in the graduate instrumental conducting program. Former students from the University of Washington occupy positions at numerous universities and public schools throughout the United States. Prior to his appointment at the UW he served as Director of Bands at Montana State University where he founded the MSU Wind Ensemble. From 1978 to 1983 he was band director in the Herscher, Illinois, public school system where the band program received several regional and national awards in solo/ensemble, concert and marching band competition. Professor Salzman holds degrees from Wheaton (IL.) College (Bachelor of Music Education), and Northern Illinois University (Master of Music in low brass performance), and studied privately with Arnold Jacobs, former tubist of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra. He has numerous publications for bands with the C. L. Barnhouse, Arranger's Publications, Columbia Pictures and Hal Leonard Publishing companies, and has served on the staff of new music reviews for the Instrumentalist magazine. He is an elected member of the American Bandmasters Association and is currently the Northwestern Division President of the College Band Directors National Association. Professor Salzman is a national artist/clinician for the Yamaha Corporation of America and has been a conductor, adjudicator or arranger for bands in over thirty-five states, Canada, England, Japan, South Korea, Indonesia and Russia. In the fall of 1997 he was Visiting Professor at the Senzoku Gakuen Uozu School of Music in Uozu, Japan. He is compiling editor and co-author (with several current and former UW graduate students) of "A Composer's Insight: Thoughts, Analysis and Commentary on Contemporary Masterpieces for Wind Band," a new series of books on contemporary wind band composers. Meredith Music Publications, a subsidiary of the Hal Leonard Corporation, is releasing the first volume on February 17th of 2003.

THE UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON SCHOOL OF MUSIC

On any given day the University of Washington resembles a medium-sized city where some 50,000 people converge to study, teach and work at an institution considered to be one of the leading centers of American higher education. Within the framework of this major research university, the University of Washington School of Music offers a vibrant learning atmosphere dedicated to individual artistic growth and academic exploration. With approximately 400 music majors the SOM offers an intimate learning environment; the faculty-to-student ratio averages one teacher for every seven music majors. Located in Seattle, an exciting urban area frequently named "America's most livable city," the UW enjoys close proximity to outstanding cultural and recreational opportunities. The 55-member School of Music faculty is a group of talented artist-teachers who enjoy national and international reputations in performance, music education, composition and music academics. Students receive weekly private lessons and classroom instruction from teachers who may have recently returned from an international concert tour, a studio recording session, or a worldwide conference of scholars.

THE UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON WIND ENSEMBLE

The University of Washington Wind Ensemble is the select wind ensemble at the UW and comprises the finest wind and percussion players on campus. The UW Wind Ensemble has performed at a number of prestigious music conventions and has presented several world premiere performances of outstanding new music for the wind band. The UW Wind Ensemble has also collaborated with a number of internationally renowned guest artists, conductors and composers including Eddie Daniels, Steve Houghton, Allen Vizzutti, James Walker, Douglas Yeo, Leigh Howard Stevens, David Maslanka and David Stanhope. Membership, based on audition, is open to the entire student body regardless of major field of study.

Additional opportunities for student involvement in UW instrumental organizations include the Symphonic Band, the Concert Band, the Husky Marching Band, four jazz ensembles, several combos and the Symphony Orchestra.

CLINICIANS

RAYDELL C. BRADLEY serves as Director of Concert Bands at Pacific Lutheran University where he conducts both the University Wind Ensemble and Concert Band, as well as conducting the Washington Wind Symphony.

Before accepting his position at PLU, Dr. Bradley was Director of Bands at Fort Hays State University in Hays, Kansas, where his Symphonic Concert Band was invited to perform for the Kansas Music Educators Workshop. Prior to that appointment, Dr. Bradley served as Assistant Director of Bands at Truman State University in Kirksville, Missouri. He has also served on the music faculty of the Omaha public schools.

Dr. Bradley received the Bachelor of Music Education and Master of Arts degrees from Truman State University in 1981 and 1986. He completed the Doctor of Musical Arts degree in Instrumental Conducting from the University of Washington in June 2000, where he was the recipient of the Dorothy Danforth-

Compton Foundation fellowship. Dr. Bradley's dissertation project was "A Study of the Liturgical and Programmatic Aspects of Selected Wind Ensemble Compositions of David Gillingham."

Dr. Bradley maintains a very active schedule. He has served as guest clinician, conductor, and adjudicator in over 25 states and Canada. He is on the music staff of the First Christian Church of Seattle. Recent PLU Wind Ensemble honors under Professor Bradley's direction include performances for the college Band Director's National Association Convention in Reno in 1994 and 1998, the Washington Music Educators Conference in 1996, and the Hawaii Music Educator's Conference in 1998. Dr. Bradley is President-Elect of the Northwest Division of the CBDNA. Dr. Bradley can be heard on keyboards on the "Open Doors" CD with his jazz/gospel quintet the "Sabbatical Five."

PATRICK VANDEHEY is the Director of Bands at Westview High School in Beaverton, Oregon. Mr. Vandehey received his Bachelors of Arts and Bachelors in Music Education from the University of Washington in 1980 and his Masters of Teaching Music from Portland State University in 1988. He is Past President of the Oregon Band Directors Association and is currently the President-Elect of the Oregon Music Educators Association. In 1993 Mr. Vandehey was the state, regional and national recipient of the ASBDA Stanbury Award. In 2000 he was inducted into the Band World Legion of Honor by the John Philip Sousa Foundation. He was named one of Oregon's top ten music educators by the Oregon Music Educators Association in Teaching Music Magazine in October, 2000 and in 2002 received the National Band Associations Citation of Excellence for outstanding contributions to bands and band music.

Since Westview High School opened in 1994, the bands have consistently won superior ratings in concert, marching and jazz band festivals. The Westview Symphonic Band was a featured group in the 1999 All-Northwest Music Educators Conference, the 2002 Oregon Music Educators Conference and has been named the 4A Champion in the Oregon State Concert Band Championships in 2000, 2001 and 2002. Previous to Westview High School, Mr. Vandehey taught at Aloha High School, also in the Beaverton School District, for 14 years. He is married to Kristin, his wife of 25 years and they have two daughters Sarah, 21 and Jackie, 18.

TIMOTHY REYNISH studied horn with Aubrey Brain and Frank Probyn. He was a music scholar at Cambridge, working under Raymond Leppard and Sir David Willcocks, and held Principal Horn positions with the Northern Sinfonia, Sadler's Wells Opera (now ENO) and the City of Birmingham Symphony Orchestra. His conducting studies were with George Hurst, Sir Charles Groves and Sir Adrian Boult on short courses in this country, and with Dean Dixon in Hilversum and Franco Ferrara in Siena. A prizewinner in the Mitropoulos International Conducting Competition in New York, he has conducted concerts with the CBSO, the RLPO, the Halli Orchestra, the BBC Regional Orchestra and the London Symphony Orchestra as well as in Norway, Holland and Germany. In 1975 he was invited by Sir Charles Groves to become Tutor for the Postgraduate Conducting Course at the Royal Northern College of Music. Two years later he succeeded the late Philip Jones as Head of School of Wind & Percussion, a post he retired from after twenty-one years. He was awarded a Churchill Travelling Fellowship in 1982, which enabled him to study the development and repertoire of the American symphonic wind band movement. In the past two decades he developed the wind orchestra and ensemble of the RNCM to become recognised as one of the best in the world. He has commissioned works for the wind band from composers such as Richard Rodney Bennett, John Casken, Thea Musgrove and Aulis Sallinen. The RNCM wind ensemble has performed regularly in major festivals such as Aldeburgh, Cheltenham and Huddersfield. They have regularly broadcast for BBC and Classic FM, played at three WASBE Conferences and have made commercial compact discs for Doyen, Serendipity and Chandos. Timothy has given clinics, lectures, guest conducted and adjudicated in Belgium, Canada, Denmark, Estonia, France, Germany, Hungary, Israel, Norway, Oman, Sweden, Switzerland, Turkey and the USA. For ten years he was Editor of the Novello Wind Band and Ensemble series and he is now Editor with Maecenas Music. In 2001 he became President of the World Association for Symphonic Bands & Ensembles, hosting the 2003 International Conference in Jonkoping, Sweden.

During 2001-2002 Reynish conducted at University of Texas at Austin, University of Illinois, Syracuse University, Texas Cristian University, and was Visiting Professor at Baylor University.
