QUESTIONNAIRE

1. What are your perspectives on the government's responsibilities in sustaining the HIV/AIDS programs in Nigeria given the proposed cut in PEPFAR funding by 2014?

Probes

- How should the Nigerian government ensure that its HIV programs can continue to be effective despite funding cuts from external donors?
- What can government do to attract more funding from other donor agencies, if PEPFAR significantly cuts funding?
- What specific actions do you think the Nigerian government should take to maintain or improve its response to HIV/AIDS

2. If donor funding is cut, what programs or services do you think the government should prioritize?

Probes:

- Why should these programs be prioritized?

3. What programs or services should be cut back? Why?
4. What level of funding should the Nigerian government provide for HIV programs and services? What effects will this level of funding have on the effectiveness of Nigeria's response to HIV/AIDS?

5. Do you know of any other African country that has done well in sustaining its response to HIV/AIDS with limited or reduced donor funding? What lessons from this country could be applied to Nigeria?
