on the cradle to have a working copy immediately after they are logged.

A sonic probe calibrator was fabricated and is ready to be tested.

One well was logged on the Geophysical Investigations Corp. The failure of the natural gamma probe has held up further logging in the program.

The amplifier was built for the analog to digital system and is ready to be tested.