Subject Monthly Report - January 1984

This month I completed compiling the well contamination data from a Battelle Analytical Report. After completing this data I listed the data missing from the Hanford Wells, book dated September 1983. My other tasks included continued graphing of data from the in-situ transducer and updating depth-to-water graphs on specific wells for Leigh Prater. I was also assigned to make a list of calibration dates for ground-water group instruments. So far no material for this list has been found.
