Japanese Support for Cambodian Administrative Reform Cambodian Public Servants ID Card Project

In response to the appeal made by the Royal Government of Cambodia and with a view to support the Royal Government of Cambodia's efforts to implement various reforms and especially Public Administrative Reform, the Government of Japan has approved the utilization of the counterpart fund of Japan Non-Project Grant Aid worth of five hundred and sixty thousand US dollars (US$ 560,000).

This counterpart fund, which was deposited by the Royal government of Cambodia as the result of the sale of the products purchased under Japan Non-Project Grant Aid, is to support the Council for Administrative Reform in producing and issuing ID Card for public servants.

The Government of Japan will continue to support the Royal Government of Cambodia in its efforts toward good governance and
