Water is very important for our lives & we cannot live without it. Water is a colorless & tasteless liquid. We need water to cook, to bathe, to drink.

Trees clean the air. It gives us shade & food. Trees stop the flow of water. Trees stop the erosion of soil. Trees give birds & animals shelter & food. Trees remove CO₂ & release oxygen

Trees give us fruits, medicines, rubber, gum etc. It cools the environment. The green of the trees is good & helps mute sounds. We should plant more trees, they will save our lives.

In older times we used to write about our troubles in a book. Writing in a book was a way to share what is in our heart. Now if we want to get ahead in life we have to stand on our feet. We have to study well & listen to our elders to live a successful life.

This is a very important thing in our life because if we are riding on a vehicle without a helmet we might face a lot of trouble. It could kill our father & mother (if they don't have a helmet). If we get on a vehicle without a helmet our life could be in danger.

Our lives should bloom like a flower but it should surpass & die. In that way if a person blooms people will like/appreciate it otherwise the person will not have value. We should be like a flower in the world (country).

We should make our life beautiful by chiseling a sculpture out of stone. The sculpture shows its beautiful quality. Similarly we should make our life beautiful like a sculpture. Like the artist who made the sculpture we should sculpt our own life.

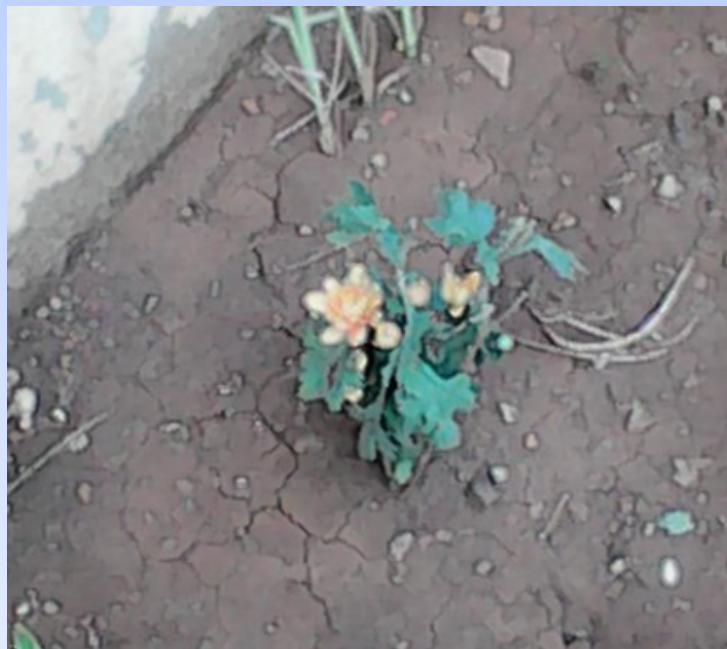

The cupboard is very important in my life. The cupboard contains my goals. I believe that I can attain my goals. I believe that I will grow more than the cupboard.

I will attain my goals no matter the obstacles that come in my way. No matter what people say about me, I believe I will attain my goals. I will reach my aims.

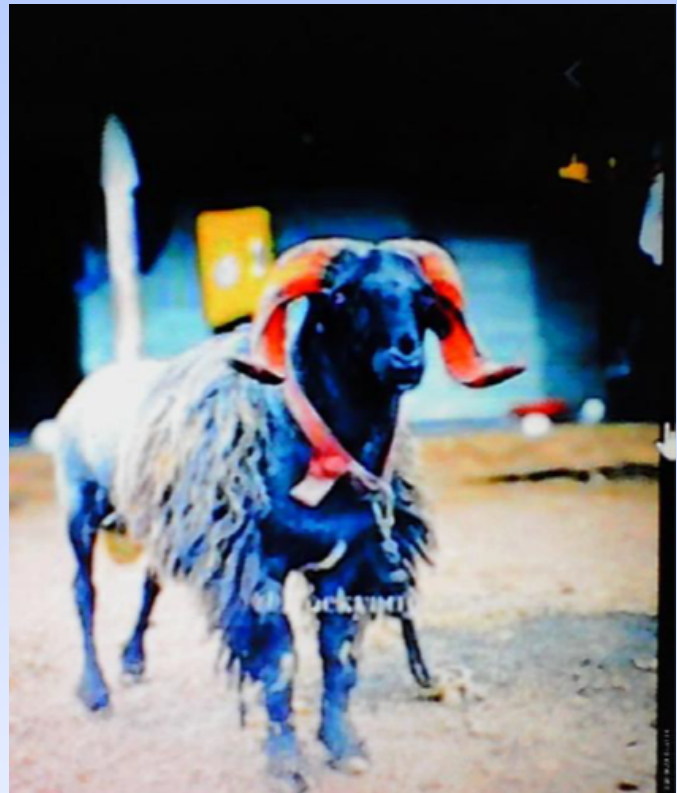

We should live life like a flower. Our life should bloom like a flower. We should not surpass & wilt but nurture the bloom. Our parents grow us like a flower & show us the way to work. We have to live by their word. In case the flower dies, we also lose our life.

When we look up & see the clouds there is a possibility of rain. Without clouds there is no possibility of rain. Sometimes, the rain comes and washes away our sins. If we fall like rain we won't have any dignity. In our life we should make adjustments like the rain & live our life.

A sheep without a shepherd is lost & will go anywhere & do anything & will put its life in danger. So, how a sheep needs a shepherd we need a shepherd in our life. Otherwise, like the sheep we will go anywhere, & get spoilt and we might lose our life.

I had a lot of fun during primary & secondary school. But in 10th standard I had to get serious, and I am trying to be more serious. I had a lot of troubles in the middle but even then I persevered and I am sitting for my exams. I have tried my best & I am sure I will pass.

Understand what time means. I understand the importance of time as I have grown up. When I was young I did not understand the importance. When I understood that we have to take our medications on time, when we take our medicine on time we can live life happily.

This barrel stands for/represents the people from the Nandana Makkala Dhama Hostel. They scolded, beat, and got us to learn & that is why this life is possible.

Trees are the most important part of our life. Trees give us air to breathe. If there are no trees in a city, that city will be destroyed. People won't be able to live there. If trees provide clean air, life can go on. Similarly, a human can lead life in a clean way. A human should learn by looking at trees, because to grow a tree, you need water, fertilizer, and other inputs. Similarly, to raise a child, a mother has to work hard. After that child grows up, they should take care of the nation's progress. Looking at the tree, that child should stand on their own feet and lead their own life.

This light is the guiding lamp of our life. If there is no electricity, many people would suffer. In light, we can lead our lives. People who see them should praise them; he should lead a good life.

A book gives us knowledge. If we read that book carefully, we can achieve things in life. A person who reads a book leads a good life. A book is very valuable. It tells us how one can lead life and teaches us how to live properly.
