We're seeking participants for an upcoming focus group on trust in public health and heat guidance in the Pacific Northwest. If you live in Multnomah County, Oregon; King County, Washington; or Vancouver, B.C., please consider signing up to tell us your thoughts.

When: January 2025

Duration: 70 minutes

Location: Zoom

This study assesses how trust in public health authorities impacts residents' communication-seeking behavior and beliefs during extreme heat, such as the 2021 Pacific Northwest heat dome.

If interested, please fill out the form (link in comments), and the research team will email you.
