Chris dropped a bombshell this afternoon. Says he needs to leave the paper after the third week of September because of his complicated situation in Thailand - girlfriend due to give birth in four weeks. I'm too tired and pissed off to get into recriminations just now, but we need to put an ad in the paper, preferably the Nation. "The Phnom Penh Post seeks a Managing Editor. Responsible for copy editing, computer layout (pagemaker), also reporting if interested. Salary negotiable. Call or FAX 855-23-26568." Let's run it for one week. Please refine ad as you see fit.

Forget about mailing the papers to the U.S. We'll do it from this end after we add a flyer.

We also got a letter from DPT today that says pay $27,000 in two weeks. All in all its been just another one of those days.

I need some sleep. Hope you are well.
