On Sunday morning, January 7, the Philadelphia Quartet leaves for a two month tour of India, as one of very few quartets chosen to represent the United States in its world-wide Cultural Presentations Program. The Quartet has performed under the auspices of the U.S. State Department in Europe (1965) and South America (1966). This present trip is their fourth major international concert tour.

In addition to over two dozen formal evening concerts, the quartet will appear at many Indian colleges and universities, and will share some programs with prominent Indian musicians. Meeting with both professional musicians and students is considered an integral part of the Cultural Presentations Program. Among the cities the Quartet will visit are Bombay, Calcutta, New Delhi, Madras, Hyderabad, Bangalore and Chandigarh.
