Dr. Eunyoung Kim, organist, was born in S. Korea and began her musical training on the piano at the age of four. During her high school years, Kim was introduced to organ and found herself captivated by the instrument's power and majesty. After entering the Church Music department at Yonsei University in Korea, Kim studied organ with Professor Sang-Soo Kwak, the pioneer of organ and church music in Korea, and Dr. Tong-Soon Kwak, the eminent performer and teacher. For her graduate studies, Kim attended the University of Michigan (USA) and subsequently earned her Masters and Doctoral degrees in Organ Performance as a student of renowned teacher, Dr. Marilyn Mason.

As an active performer, Dr. Kim is especially interested in designing her organ recitals with specific subjects. The subjects of her recitals include "Les Impressionists" (works by French impressionism composers), "Organ Service" (constructing the elements of worship service with German Chorale based organ music), "American Organ Music since 1950," and "Watching and Listening - Organ Music with Paintings."

In 2008, Dr. Kim was awarded a prestigious Fulbright scholarship and taught at West Virginia Wesleyan College as a visiting scholar in 2008-2009. Dr. Kim currently serves on the faculty at Korea Baptist Theological University/Seminary and as organist at Daehung Baptist Church in Daejeon, S. Korea.
