1. A GRECIAN FEAST
The merry god of wine permits us to imbibe three goblets in an evening's time
The first--in the name of the Graces, bare and blushing;
while the second is devoted to ruddy-cheeked wellness;
and the third--to enduring friendship.
After the third cup the wise man deposes all laurels from his brow and makes all further oblations to restorative Morpheus.

3. ARISE, TIMID ONE

Arise, timid, one: In your cave The holy oil lamp Burns until morning
With heartfelt prayer, O prophet, dispel Sorrowful thoughts, And evil dreams!
Until morning dawns Humbly make your prayer Read the heavenly book Until morning dawns!

A white-flanked magpie chatters 'neath my front gate, jumping to and fro, the motley bird foretells that I shall have guests.
An imaginary bell rings in my ears, the crimson ray of dawn glimmers, and the silvery snow-dust glistens. sleigh-bells ring, little drums beat, (whilst the people, my, oh, my,) whilst the people gaze at the gypsy girl.
the gypsy girl dances, beating loudly on a drum, ah, she waves her handkerchief, laughs merrily and sings: "I'm a songstress, I'm a singer, and a first rate enchantress.
Take me with you, don't regret it, with me the trip will be more fun!"

INTERMISSION

HERR, AUF DICH TRAUE ICH .................................................................HEINRICH SCHÜTZ (1585-1672)
In thee, O Lord, do I put my trust; let me never but put to confusion. Deliver me in thy righteousness, and cause me to escape: incline thine ear unto me, and save me. Be thou my strong habitation, whereunto I may continually resort; thou hast given commandment to save me.

HYMNE À ST. MARTIN .................................................................................... VACLOVAS AUGUSTINAS (b. 1959)
Jeremiah Selvey, conductor

Oh, man unsullied
And invincible by work,
Fearless of death,
Who hasn't dread of death,
Not declined of life.

Eyes and arm
Always turned to the heavens,
Not overcoming by the spirit of prayer,
And not wearied, Alleluia.

Martin beaming with Joy of Abraham,
Martin, he's poor and modest,
Stepping rich to the heavens,
Honored with hymns of heaven.

CONDUCTOR BIOGRAPHY:

GISELLE WYERS is Assistant Professor of Choral Studies and Voice at the University of Washington, where she conducts the University Chorale and teaches courses in voice, undergraduate choral conducting, graduate choral repertoire, and music methods. University Chorale’s 2008 performance of the Genesis Suite with Seattle Symphony was termed “brilliant” by The Seattle Times.

Wyers is a leading national figure in the application of Laban movement theory for conductors. Each summer she team-teaches choral conducting with James Jordan at Westminster Choir College, and her chapter entitled “Incorporation Laban Actions in the Rehearsal” is currently available as part of the textbook Music for Conducting Study through GIA Publications (2008).

As a composer, Wyers is currently preparing numerous choral works for premieres, including a commission by the renowned Netherlands chorus A Cappella Koor Cantabile. She will launch the "Giselle Wyers Choral Series" as part of Santa Barbara Music Publishing Company this spring. This series will feature works by Wyers and other emerging composers from across the globe.

Wyers’ dedication to exposing audiences to the music of contemporary American composers has led to publications in various national journals. She is especially interested in exploring how modern composers use music as a form of peace-making and social justice. "Waging Peace through Intercultural Art in Kyr’s Ah Nagasaki," appears as the cover article of the May 2008 Choral Journal, and discusses how the act of creating and premiering a musical work can serve as a gesture of reconciliation between cultures.

Wyers is in frequent demand as a guest conductor of honor choirs across the United States. As a vocalist, she has recorded CDs with the Westminster Symphonic Choir, Oregon Repertory Singers, and Linda Ronstadt.

Wyers holds a Doctor of Musical Arts in conducting from the University of Arizona, where she studied with Maurice Skones, and minored in historical musicology with John Brobeck. She earned a master’s degree from Westminster Choir College, where she founded the Greater Princeton Youth Chamber Orchestra, and a bachelor’s degree from UC Santa Cruz, where she founded the San Lorenzo Valley Community Chorus and Orchestra.
