Frontispiece — Plan of Babylon, Drawn by F. Shepherd

[with a Sketch by A. Stainton]

Ideal Section of Egyptian at end. 1st vol.

P.14.

See before — Mr. A. A. Stainton of the Expedition, a new of the Royal Artillery, politely forwarded the drawing of the Plan of Babylon.

Her Majesty's steamer, named after the river which she first

(left the melancholy fate of her consort) navigated, is there —

suggesting strange notions of the Triumph of Brit. art & of Brit. perseverance, as these approaching — in a manner that ought to have deserved more from a nation's pride,

the memory of mankind & the cradle of human knowledge,
